WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE PROGRAM CHAIRS

Dear participants,

As programme chairs of this year's WISC conference, we are grateful for your commitment to and participation in WISC. We have received over 500 submissions from all corners of the world, proving that WISC is a global conference in the true sense of the term. The theme of this year's conference, "International Relations in a World of Flux: Understanding Continuity, Change and Contestation", reflects our global conditions marked by increasing uncertainty and anxiety in the international system. We believe that the conference programme represents a plurality of viewpoints on the current state of the international order and its future prospects.

Working as programme chairs has been a very rewarding experience for us, but as always, there were also challenges. We could not have overcome those challenges without the support and help of our colleagues. We would like to extend a special thank you to WISC President, Pınar Bilgin (Bilkent University); WISC Executive Secretary, Roberto Domínguez (Suffolk University); WISC Treasurer Anna Wrobel (University of Warsaw); Assistant to Governing Board Isaac Flores Delgado (Universidad del Mar, Oaxaca); and Assistant to Programme Chairs, Ersagun Kocabaş (Sabancı University). We would also like to thank the section chairs for their enthusiasm and cooperation in organizing the sections of the conference.

We are very much looking forward to the discussions that will ensue from this diverse and global programme.

Prof. Senem Aydin-Duzgit, Sabanci University, Turkey, Program Co-Chair.

Dr. Zeynep Gulsah Capan, University of Erfurt, Germany, Program Co-Chair.

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM WISC

Dear participants,

As an IR scholar, to have a true sense of ‘international’, there is no more vital undertaking than to participate in an international studies conference attended by scholars from all corners of the world. I have been closely involved in the organization of multiple national and regional international studies conferences in my career. However, nothing prepared me for the challenges posed by a truly worldwide International Relations (IR) institution that is the World International Studies Committee. This is the second (and last) one organised during my presidency. I will repeat what I said when I opened the previous one. If we serious about globalising the study of world politics, we need to pay close attention to how IR scholars from around the world ‘do IR’. There is no place better than a WISC conference to do just that.

Since assuming the WISC presidency in the summer of 2020, I have worked with the strong team of colleagues. I would like to acknowledge WISC Executive Secretary, Roberto Domínguez (Suffolk University), WISC Treasurer Anna Wrobel (University of Warsaw) and Assistant to Governing Board Isaac Flores Delgado (Universidad del Mar, Oaxaca). I am grateful for their dedication to WISC and the international studies community worldwide.

A word about our institutional hosts. We are grateful for the welcome and support from our host University of Warsaw (UW), where our conference is taking place, and Polish International Studies Association (PISA) who is our co-host and one of the founding members of WISC.

Finally, I want to thank our program co-chairs Senem Aydın Düzgit (Sabancı Üniversitesi) and Zeynep Gülşah Çapan (University of Erfurt). The seventh global international studies conference was a true team effort.

I wish you a productive conference.

Pinar Bilgin

WISC President

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE HOST INSTITUTION

Dear Distinguished Guests,

On behalf of prof. Alojzy Nowak - Rector of the University of Warsaw and myself - Dean of the Faculty of Political Science and International Studies, it is my great pleasure and honor to welcome you to the Seventh Global Conference of the World International Studies Committee (WISC), titled “International Relations in a World of Flux: Understanding Continuity, Change and Contestation”.

We are delighted to host this prestigious event and to welcome esteemed scholars, practitioners, and thought leaders from around the globe to Poland, to our vibrant capital city of Warsaw, and to our renowned University. This conference represents a significant opportunity for the academic and professional community to come together and explore the complexities and dynamics of international relations in our ever-changing world.

The discipline of international relations is more crucial than ever as we navigate a landscape marked by rapid changes and persistent challenges. It is through rigorous analysis, thoughtful dialogue, and collaborative research that we can hope to understand and address the multifaceted issues that impact global peace, security, and development. This conference is a testament to our collective commitment to advancing the field and contributing to a more informed and interconnected world.

Warsaw, a city rich in history and culture, provides a fitting backdrop for our discussions on continuity and change. We hope you will take the time to explore its many historical landmarks, museums, and vibrant neighborhoods. The University of Warsaw, with its long-standing tradition of academic excellence and commitment to fostering intellectual curiosity, is proud to serve as the venue for this gathering of minds. Our Faculty of Political Science and International Studies is dedicated to producing cutting-edge research and cultivating a deeper understanding of political and international phenomena. We are proud to host this conference and to facilitate the exchange of ideas that will undoubtedly enrich our discipline.

We have an exciting program planned, featuring a wide array of panels, workshops, and keynote addresses that promise to stimulate thought-provoking conversations and collaborative efforts. We encourage you to engage actively, share your insights, and build lasting connections with your peers.

May your time here be intellectually enriching and your deliberations productive. We are confident that this conference will contribute significantly to the advancement of our understanding of international relations and the forces that shape our global community.

Once again, welcome to Poland, welcome to Warsaw, and welcome to the University of Warsaw. We wish you all a successful and rewarding conference.

Warm regards,

Prof. Daniel Przystek

Dean of the Faculty of Political Science and International Studies

University of Warsaw

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM PISA

Dear Participants of the WISC 7th Global International Studies Conference in Warsaw,

I am honored to have the opportunity to welcome you at the University of Warsaw on behalf of the Polish International Studies Association (PISA/PTSM). The Polish International Studies Association was established not so long ago, in 2009. Our mission is to develop the discipline of international relations. Thanks to our activities, international relations have become an independent academic discipline within social sciences.

PISA/PTSM's mission refers directly to the tradition of the International Studies Conference active in the interwar period. As we know, its initiators assumed that the development of the study of international relations would contribute to mutual understanding of nations and the elimination of stereotypes and prejudices – which in turn would create conditions for security and global peace.

It seemed that after the end of the Cold War, these conditions would be fulfilled. However, the optimism of researchers of that period has long evaporated.

The Cold War era East-West division of the international system has been replaced by a new division of the Global North vs the Global South. Yet, the biggest challenge today appears to be Russia's aggression against Ukraine—a violation of the United Nations Charter. The most dangerous thing is that one of the superpowers has decided outright to use war as a means of implementing foreign policy. This is an extremely dangerous precedent.

Poland, as a host of the WISC 7th Global International Studies Conference, has Russia's aggression in mind. Yet for us—international relations scholars—issues of global governance and justice are equally important. It is for this reason that we undertook to organize another WISC Global International Studies Conference, believing somewhat idealistically, but thinking and acting realistically, that the epistemic community of WISC will contribute to a better understanding of the challenges of the current state of international relations in the world.

Wishing you all a very productive conference,

Professor Edward Haliżak

President of the Polish International Studies Association

CONFERENCE VENUES

UNIVERSITY OF WARSAW

During World War II, Czesław Miłosz, a student of the University (in 1932), who was later to win a Nobel Prize for Literature (1980), worked at the Old Library as a caretaker.

The Main Gate is one of the most distinguishable symbols of the University. It is ornamented with a crowned eagle surrounded with five stars which symbolise the first five faculties of the University.

The University's oldest building was constructed before 1043. It was initially the summer residence of the kings of Poland: Władysław IV, Jan Kazimierz, who gave the palace its name, and Jan III Sobieski.

THE MAIN CAMPUS
26/28 Krakowskie Przedmieście Street

The university life concentrates in three campuses: Main, Ochota and Służew, located in different districts of Warsaw. The University's historic seat, located in the heart of Warsaw, is widely appreciated for its elegant architecture. Impressive edifices, dating back to the 17th century, rank high among Warsaw's sightseeing musts.

The Column Hall is the most lavish place in the Former Museum Building. It is open for guests every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Fryderyk Chopin, the most famous Polish composer, lived in the Former Rectory Building with his parents and sisters. He was a student of the Main School of Music, the part of University.

UNIVERSITY OF WARSAW LIBRARY
56/66 Dobra Street

In the library, there is one of the largest collections of academic volumes in the country as well as one of the biggest and most beautiful roof gardens in Europe. The garden is divided into two parts: the upper, and the lower, joined by a cascading stream. The upper garden is open to the public from April to October, the lower garden is open all year round.

In the first part of the 20th century the St. Roch Hospital served as an actual city clinic.
